CHAMBERLAIN BILL GETS ATTENTION

Ship Building Administration to be Given Additional Powers.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, JAN. 16.—The war inquiries virtually ended, congress today turned its energies to concocting tonics to build and speed up war management. Scores of measures, many of them with committee backing, to remedy defective administration disclosed by the investigations were ready for consideration. Hard fighting seemed certain with the administration still vigorously contending for a free hand in the conduct of the war.
The Senate Military Affairs committee suspended its investigation to give its attention to the army legislation prepared by the war department as well as the Chamberlain bill. Among the most important of the war department measures are the

Internal Crisis In Germany Has Safely Passed

Von Hindenburg Gives In To Chancellor Von Hertling On Conditions On East Front—Former To Rule Over Operations On West Front.

AMSTERDAM, JAN. 16.—Germany's internal crisis again has been settled, according to a dispatch quoting the Berlin Lokal Anzeiger.
According to the dispatch Hindenburg has given in to Chancellor Von Hertling regarding the situation in the east in return for being given a free hand in the west. The field marshal, it was stated, will be an absolute dictator in all questions affecting the western front.
Just what policy Hertling will pursue in relation to the peace proposals of Russia it was not clear.
It is said he will frown on the plan of military leaders who contemplated extending Germany's frontier. Hertling is said to favor the establishment of several states in lieu of the military leaders' plans.
A dispatch quoting the Leipzig Volks Zeitung says:
"Of course the controversy is not one between annexationists and non-annexationists, for both sides agree that annexations ought to be made. The struggle is how the annexations are to be attained. The supreme army command insists on the removal of the German frontiers to the eastward on the plea of the necessity making them secure, while apparently the government would like to secure this object by a roundabout way, that is to say, by creating of German vassal states."
"It is a controversy between adherents of avowed annexation on the one hand and of disguised annexation on the other."
Chancellor Von Hertling will make his delayed speech to the reichstag main committee in a few days, according to the Cologne Volks Zeitung. The paper states that it is not yet decided just how far the chancellor will go in replying to the speeches of President Wilson and Lloyd George on war aims.
Admiral Von Tirpitz, according to dispatches received here today, addressed a big meeting of the German Patriotic League in Berlin yesterday urging against any peace move at this time.
"We have arrived at the most critical period of the war," Von Tirpitz is quoted as saying. "England and America have begun a concerted peace offensive. If we would conserve our world position we must not take a renunciatory peace because England is now ready to demand it. At this critical time we place our faith in the Kaiser, Hindenburg and Ludendorff."

FIANCEE OF SPOORMANN WOULD BREAK OFF HER ENGAGEMENT TO A SPY

BALTIMORE, JAN. 16.—Walter Spoormann alleged German master spy has been turned over to the Department of Justice. Action in his case now rests with Attorney Gen. Gregory.
According to officials here Spoormann is placed only as an enemy alien, and the only charges against him are violation of the regulations regarding alien enemies entering the barred zones.

By DAVID M. CHURCH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
BALTIMORE, JAN. 16.—The fate of Walter Spoormann, alleged master German spy, rests today in the hands of Attorney Gen. Gregory.
In the city jail today Spoormann waits the future—which may hold for him a death penalty. Spoormann will be held here until Deputy District Atty. Latian has all evidence which appears to incriminate Spoormann as the leader of a band of German plotters against the U. S. He will then report to Gregory who will decide on what charge Spoormann will be tried. The mysterious woman in the case is known today. She is Miss May Stoop, a pretty brunette of 22 or 23 years, the fiancée of Spoormann. When she was located in the Raleigh Hotel at Washington federal agents who have been on the case, Miss Stoop said:
"I suppose I am the mysterious woman referred to. I have been engaged to Walter quite a while and I believe him to be innocent. If it is proven otherwise, then, of course, I shall renounce him." On account of his being employed about the camps, and told him so several times while discussing stories in newspapers about spies and plots, but he said he liked the employment.
"I am an American girl thru and thru, first and last and all of the time. I would not do a thing against my country and I would break my engagement with him and never speak to him again if he was a spy."
Five other arrests are imminent today. Two of the men now held under surveillance are prominent citizens, but they are said not to be residents of Baltimore. Federal authorities claim that much of the evidence of a great spy ring in the U. S. is located in this city but prominent parties are discredited thruout the U. S. Spoormann spent a quiet night at the city jail. He knows the seriousness of the offense with which he is charged but he takes it philosophically and seems inclined to believe that he will be dealt with leniently.
Marcus Asch, who was taken into custody here yesterday, is looked upon by the authorities as the biggest asset in the case. Asch, who is an artist, is said to be a spy.

Exempt Farmer, Is Cox' Advice

Draft Boards Urged to be Lenient in Passing Upon Farmers' Claims.

PURPOSE TO AVOID A FOOD SHORTAGE

Says Agricultural Interests Must be Protected at All Hazards.

(International News Service)
COLLMBUS, JAN. 16.—So that this nation will not face the food shortage situation prevailing in England, France and Italy, Governor Cox appealed to all Ohio draft boards today to adopt a more lenient policy in passing upon farmers' exemption claims. He urged that farmers, agricultural students, skilled farm workers and farm managers be exempted. His action was prompted by complaints from rural districts that farmers would be handicapped by lack of sufficient labor this spring at planting time unless greater consideration is shown by draft boards. In a letter to the boards the governor said:
"It has been brought to the attention of this office that in some sections of the state proper consideration is not being given to claims for deferred classification by registrants engaged in agricultural enterprises. As the war goes on it is becoming more and more evident that the United States must feed her allies and to do this the agricultural interests must be protected at all hazards. Failure on the part of the United States to be able to do this will seriously hamper the

TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS LOOT OF YEGGMEN

CHICAGO, JAN. 16.—The Chicago police today are mystified by the theft of $10,000 stolen from a safe in a branch of Commonwealth Edison Co. The money represented the monthly payroll of employees and was in bills of large denominations.

Houlahan, a bookkeeper, who was one of the persons said to have known the combination of the safe and declared to be the only one who carried a key to it, was taken to police headquarters and questioned by the police, but was later released. The police have been unable to find the slightest clue to the identity of the thief nor any trace of the missing money.

Send Food, Not Men To Our Allies

—SAYS SENATOR McCUMBER

North Dakota Solon Paints A Gloomy Picture Of Conditions In Europe—Fears War May End Before Power Of U. S. Is Felt.

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, JAN. 16.—"Stop sending soldiers to Europe and in their places send ships laden with food for our allies," was the appeal made in the senate this afternoon by Senator McCumber, of North Dakota. "It is the only way to ward off a premature peace before the U. S. can bring the full force of its resources to bear against Germany," he said. "The empty cussion can wait, the empty stomach can't," McCumber exclaimed.
"Just now our allies need our food a thousand times more than they need our men."
McCumber painted a gloomy picture of the entire war situation. "The U. S. has deceived itself," he declared, "in under estimating the striking power of the Central Powers and over estimating the strength and resources of the entente. Today the Central Empires hold 3 1/2 times as much territory from which to draw their support as the allies have in Europe," he said, "and in addition on the basis of population, they can outnumber the allies in the field by from five to six million men."
Assuming that Italy and France remain in the fight, which he feared was too optimistic an assumption, McCumber estimated that at this time the U. S. should have seven million in the field to put the entente on even terms with their enemies. He believed, however, that if Great Britain were properly supplied with food, she and the United States could continue the war 40 years if necessary.
Senator McCumber declared we are in need of an enormous increase in shipping facilities to carry on this war and we find ourselves at the beginning of 1918 with 7,100,000 tons less than we had in 1914.
"Coming right down to the unquestionable necessities of the shipping tragedy we have in Europe today say 200,000 soldiers," he continued. "Before we can make any real head way against the Central Powers we should have not less than 5,000,000 soldiers in France. To supply such an army we would need 30,000,000 tons of shipping, and we are now short of our normal needs by 13,500,000 tons."

Here's U. M. W. Head's Report Submitted At Indianapolis Tuesday

INDIANAPOLIS, IND., JAN. 16.—The U. M. W. of America seems to be declared an open season by the Federal judiciary for hunting labor unions; and this convention should not adjourn without taking some decisive steps for laying before congress the situation raised by these two decisions and of securing legislative assurance against their repetition," said Mr. Hayes, urging speedy action on the decision of the supreme court in the Hitchenman case in West Va., and a recent decision in the federal court of Arkansas alleging violation of the Sherman anti-trust law. The decision in the Hitchenman case was taken by the miners' union to mean that labor unions have no right to organize a non-union mine if the employer does not want it unionized. In the Arkansas case penalties amounting to $500,000 were assessed for alleged violation of the Anti-Trust law. Arrangements are being made for an appeal in the latter case.

"There was nothing to show that the latter was more than a local one," said Mr. Hayes on his report on the Arkansas case, "except the far fetched inference that it must have grown out of a gigantic conspiracy to interfere with the production and commerce of non-union coal."

"If trade unions are to be set apart from the ordinary rules which govern incorporated societies and be subject to suits the law for this distinction should be declared by the highest court in the land. If this rule prevails there is no reason why suits at law may not be instituted against political parties. If the policy of the miners' union in organizing the unorganized mine labor of the country subjects it to a charge of conspiracy in violation of the Sherman act then every nation-wide labor union is an illegal combination and the effort to convert non-union production to production under union conditions is necessarily a criminal interference with labor and commerce."

"To sue the collective membership of a nation-wide trade union and hold its entire membership liable because violence may attend a local strike or lock-out," he declared, "is an extraordinary extension, even of the rule laid down in the Danbury Hatters case."

The miners' union head warned the convention that the facts of such cases as the Hitchenman decision, "and their far-reaching consequences must not be ignored by us."

"It involves a menace to the normal and heretofore legitimate activities of every labor union in the country," he declared.

"Decisions of this character are calculated, if not designed to destroy our organization and return coal mining operations to conditions that once prevailed."

Because of this litigation Hayes urged that the entire matter be referred to a special committee.

LIFE, THRIFT AND FEBRUARY THIRD

The Value of Having a Time For Action

"He meant well—tried a little—failed much."

Usually, from custom, we speak well of those whose opportunity is ended. Yet this epitaph actually appeared above the resting place of one man—and might be written of millions.

All our lives are filled with minutes ideas, intentions and opportunities. The minutes are for the execution of ideas and intentions; for the grasping of opportunities. In proportion to our profitable use of time, are we justified in having lived.

If each man's work was for himself alone his problem would be simple. He then could devote each minute to producing something that would make for permanent benefit and permanent happiness. He is, however, working not alone, but for society, and in proportion as he does big things he is rewarded largely—with self-development, with honors and with money. Enters his second problem: to use that money which he has received so that the biggest return will be his.

It is natural to think only of the present. So a reminder is needed—a reminder that Thrift today means happiness and progress tomorrow—a reminder splendidly supplied by the observance of Thrift Day, February 3d. And February 3d is more than a reminder—it is a day of action. On Thrift Day is clearly seen the need for thrift. The relation of the bank account to future happiness and to increasing success is visualized.

There is a ceremony to observe—the opening of or adding to a bank account, and everybody has the same idea. The folks next door, the men at the office, as well as the ladies at the sewing circle, the little folks at school; all are enthused over Thrift Day. There is suggestion in the air, and impulse and action—everybody's doing it, and almost unconsciously the idea gets into the blood. This which every one is doing is a good thing, and it must be done today. Right there is one of the big, important things about the yearly observance of February 3d as Thrift Day throughout the United States. It not only reminds and inspires but it does the hardest of all things—gets action in the NOW—today—without loss of time. While the impression and the intention are fresh and vivid, folks go right down to the bank and act, thus starting an account which, largely of its own momentum, will continue until there comes the fresh impulse of another Thrift Day.

To observe the day is to determine on Thrift action and carry it into execution in every possible way, and

The Ohio War Board Says Today

Rye bread is war bread and the Food Administration encourages its uses in place of wheat bread.

The Department of Agriculture has just estimated that the production of rye in 1917 exceeded by 11,253,000 bushels the amount raised in 1916. The total 1917 crop is placed at 60, 145,000 bushels, so it should not be difficult to get rye flour as a substitute for wheat flour.

A Knox county woman contributes this home recipe for making rye bread:

One-half cake of yeast dissolved in half bowl of warm water, thickened with white flour. Set in warm place to rise. At supper time cook two medium sized potatoes. Mash. Add 4 cups warm water or potato water, one-half tablespoon salt, two tablespoons brown sugar. Next morning add two-thirds rye flour and one-third white flour. Stir as long as flour can be worked in. Turn on a well-floured moulding board, roll lightly, shape and place in deep pans. Set in warm place, cover well and let rise to twice normal size. Bake in moderate oven 45 minutes. The loaves will not round up like other bread, but if directions are followed something delicious will be the result.

above all to register the net result, as it can only be registered, in a growing, interest-bearing surplus at the bank. To start on Thrift Day and continue thrift action through the year is to insure a steadily increasing success, to get constantly more out of life and to know that each of those precious minutes is being used in a way that will profit the world and further our own best interests.

Folks who think, who mean well, try hard and succeed; they are the ones for whom Thrift Day was established. And remember that you, as a Thrift Day observer, are only one of millions who realize that real enjoyment in life demands thrift and that planning to celebrate and observe February 3d is the biggest, practical thrift help ever developed.

WELLESLEY KNITTER DROPS INTO POETRY

WELLESLEY, MASS., JAN. 16.—Sitting all alone with her thots isn't all modern Wellesley's idea of the end of a perfect day, for Wellesley maids now sit with their wool. A complacent Wellesley maid, as she surveyed the product of her knitter's art, bethought her that "The Song of the Shirt" had nothing after all on "The Song of the Sweater," and then that maiden tried her art on the "End of a Perfect Row," with the following result:

When you come to the end of a perfect row,
And you sit alone with your wool,
And your bosom heaves with a rhythm slow,
For the joy that you've followed the rule,
Do you think what the end of a perfect row
Can mean to a tired heart,
When you've dropped each stitch since you've learned to purrl
And you lost three more at the start?
Well, this is the end of a perfect row,
And the end of a sweater, too.
'Tis for a man that is big and strong,
It will be pretty tight, 'tis true.
But toiling has rendered this perfect row
A nice piece of the knitter's art.
And 'twill stand at the end, still strong and firm,
When the whole thing comes apart."

ARMY AND NAVY CLAMOR FOR SPOORMANN'S DEATH BEFORE FIRING SQUAD

WASHINGTON, JAN. 15.—A concerted demand that Walter Spormann, German spy, friend of Count Von Bernstorff and reputed paid agent of Capt. Boy-Ed, face a firing squad, came from army and navy circles today.

Spormann, officers who know all of the facts declare, was one of the chief agents of the Kaiser in the U. S. The web of evidence against him, they say, is convincing. They fear, however, that thru a "mistaken sense of clemency," on the part of certain high officials, Spormann will not be court-martialed, but will be charged with an offense that will not carry with it the death penalty.

Hardly an officer in the war and navy departments but that declared the spy system was growing in this country. Both blamed it on the leniency which has marked the dealings with the agents of the central powers. Many of the latter have been arrested and interned, officers say, who should have been stood up against a blank wall and shot. The result has been to encourage those who are operating in the U. S.

Spormann was reported to be en route from Richmond to Baltimore this afternoon and was expected to pass thru Washington. Information regarding him was refused but the navy department, whose agents have him in custody and the department of justice.

A large number of additional arrests will result from the apprehension of Spormann was believed certain. Damaging admission were said to have been made by persons who have been associated with him during the last 9 months. One of his associates at least is reported here to have made a complete statement of her relations with him and to have detailed expenditures of money for information of both naval and military operations.

BALTIMORE, JAN. 15.—Federal authorities are bending every energy here today to unravel the "master spy" plot which it is alleged has been uncovered by the arrest of Walter Spormann at Norfolk, Va.

Two arrests have been made here and it is expected that Spormann will be brought here for a hearing. Federal authorities here are maintaining the strictest silence and refuse any information concerning Spormann.

Marius Asch, an enemy alien, and Frederick H. C. Spormann, brother of the "master spy" are held here. A Baltimore woman, of musical talent, is also under surveillance and her arrest is imminent.

A third arrest was made when August Wegerman was taken into custody. Wegerman has been employed at a local hotel for three weeks and his talk has caused considerable comment. When arrested he talked innocently to Detective Shain and spoke about "going to see the Kaiser," and "wanting to see President Wilson."

It is reported several other arrests will be made which will uncover the biggest German spy plot this country has ever known.

Frederick Spormann has been arraigned before federal prosecutor and he is said to have divulged information which will bring most serious charges against his brother and others. When Asch was taken this morning, he carried two small paper boxes, both filled with papers and clothing, which, it was alleged, was the property of Walter Spormann, who is held as the alleged successor to Capt. Boy-Ed as chief of German agents in this country. It is believed that papers were found on Spormann when he was arrested naming numerous confederates here and in Washington. Within striking distance of the national capital, it is claimed, Spormann and his accomplices worked from that city, also that they had numerous accomplices there. Federal authorities have been in communication with Washington today and it is believed orders have been given for arrest of several persons in Washington known to have been friends of the spy master. Asch and Frederick Spormann are being held here incommunicado.

DEATH TRAGICALLY TAKES COUPLE WED ONLY THREE DAYS

DENNISON, O., JAN. 16.—The bodies of A. R. Shumate, 30, Birmingham, Ala., and his bride of three days, Edna McRhea Shumate, 28, Connellsville, Pa., were removed yesterday afternoon from the Clyde Hotel here. They had been asphyxiated by fumes from a gas heater in their room.

Failure of Shumate to obey the instructions of Clyde Lindsay, proprietor of the hotel, not to attempt to regulate the gas heater in his room without asking the aid of hotel employees, is held responsible for the tragedy.

With the gas some full blast in the little stove and with a small opening in the wall, intended for the fumes to escape, closed with paper, the bodies of the couple were found by Mr. Lindsay.

A maid went to the room early in the afternoon to clean it and found the door locked. Becoming alarmed, she notified Mr. Lindsay, who after vain attempts to arouse the couple, broke the door open.

Shumate and his bride registered Thursday night at the hotel. A marriage certificate found in the room after the tragedy showed they had been married Thursday noon at Uniontown, Pa. They were on their honeymoon when they stopped at Dennison.

A sealed letter found in the room addressed to Mrs. C. A. McDaniell, 1228 Thirteenth avenue, Birmingham, Ala., grandmother of Shumate, told of his marriage and the honeymoon trip.

"I sure did get a cute little girl," Shumate wrote.

A postscript to the letter was written by Mrs. Shumate and told of her happiness.

The theory was first advanced that the couple had committed suicide. Coroner C. C. Murphy announced today that his verdict would likely be accidental asphyxiation.

DOVER IN DANGER OF HALIFAX DISASTER?

Is Dover in imminent peril of a Halifax disaster? The Dover Coke & Bi-Products plant?

Councilmen of that city desire to find out if sufficient precaution is being taken to keep a half-dozen large tanks of explosives at the factory from being fired.

To find out if safeguards are being thrown around the explosive bi-products of coal which would blow up not only the factory but half of Dover if exploded, the safety committee of the Dover council were ordered Monday night at an adjourned meeting to visit the factory and obtain assurance that precautions are being observed.

The probe of the Bi-Products plant was started by Councilman Adams who said he wanted the investigation made to insure Dover's protection and to find out how carefully the premises of the company were being guarded. Dr. E. S. Wagner, the only councilman present who knew of the nature of the explosives manufactured there, said if the plant was blown up it would be from dynamite thrown into coal shipped into the factory.

Incendiarism Feared
Benzol, toluol, xylol, ammonium sulphate and coal tar, comprising bi-products of the company, are not any more dangerous than gasoline, according to Dr. Wagner. When Dr. Wagner declared that these products could be exploded only when they were heated and vaporized, Councilman Richard Clemens said some incendiary might easily furnish the spark to apply to the mixture of benzol and atmosphere. Clemens said the danger of incendiary explosion in these war times warranted the council getting excited over the situation.

Why You Are Not Paying 30 Cents for Sugar

In April 1917 the cables told of a plan proposed by Herbert C. Hoover, then in London, which he described as "a plan by which the Allies can consolidate under one head the whole purchasing of food staples from our market, and not only will competitive bidding be abolished, but by co-operative buying on our side we can arrange the proper balance between the rights of producers and consumers."

This plan was favorably received by the sugar refining industry, which had been on a war basis almost from the beginning of the European War.

The war had brought the Allies into the Cuban market, resulting in severe domestic and international competition with no increased supplies. Naturally prices of refined sugar, both to the American public and to the Allies, rose under this forced draft.

Domestic sugar refiners, since the outbreak of the European War not only have safeguarded the United States supply but have maintained the lowest sugar prices in the world.

This brilliant record is due largely to the fact that sugar refining is in the hands of large business units, with an excess of refining capacity sufficient to supply all domestic needs, and so far all demands of foreign countries.

In the spring of 1917 there was a serious attempt at the disorganization of the sugar refining industry, following a long series of attempts at destruction of sugar ships.

Accompanying these incidents were widely circulated sensational reports predicting a sugar famine and sugar shortage, causing widespread apprehension.

At that time, even with the assurance of ample supplies on hand, retail sugar prices rose in some sections to 20 and 25 cents a pound.

The efforts of the American Sugar Refining Company to allay public alarm, to check hoarding, to accept a price less than that which it could easily have secured, and to distribute its product fairly and evenly among the trade, were of real public service.

While there were great supplies of sugar in far-away Java which ordinarily would have gone to Europe, yet the necessity for saving ships became so great that Europe turned to Cuba for even larger supplies than previously.

It takes a cargo ship 150 days to make a round trip between England and Java, while a round trip between England and Cuba can be made in 50 days.

Under these circumstances and seemingly to avoid paying proposed United States war taxes on refined sugar the European Allies purchased in Cuba the sugar which ordinarily would have come to the United States in the fall months.

These conditions, and especially the necessity of saving ships,

In war time and at all times it is our aim to safeguard the interests of the public we serve.

American Sugar Refining Company

"Sweeten it with Domino"
Granulated, Tablet, Powdered, Confectioners, Brown

led the United States and the Allied Nations to urge upon the sugar industry the adoption by voluntary agreement of the original Hoover plan, under the authority of the Food Control Act, passed August 10, 1917.

The cane-sugar refiners and the beet-sugar producers unanimously agreed to the Hoover plan as a patriotic act in the interest of the American people and as an aid to the Allies.

This is the significance of the appointment by the United States Food Administration of the International Sugar Committee to which the Allies send representatives for England, France, Italy and Canada, and to which the United States contributes three members.

Upon the success of the operation of the International Sugar Committee under the directions of the Allied Governments, acting for practically half the civilized world, will depend the readjustment of the world's sugar markets.

This plan is full of promise to all the nations party to the convention.

It is an assurance that sugar, although comparatively cheap in view of war conditions, will not by reason either of competitive or speculative activity be increased in wholesale price.

Sugar will become stabilized in price with sufficient profit to producers, refiners and merchants to maintain and stimulate production and to cover the cost of refining and of distribution.

The marketing of Domino Cane Sugars in cartons and small cotton bags by this Company has helped amazingly during the pinch of the fall months in giving a wide distribution among the retailers of the reduced sugar supplies.

While a barrel formerly was the unit of the grocer the same amount of sugar put up in cartons and small cotton bags can now be divided between two or more grocers and so serve a larger number of people and prevent hoarding.

It will be necessary for grocers and consumers to watch carefully their distribution and purchases during the approaching period of readjustment. The refineries are now starting up and supplies of raw sugar coming forward, but it will take weeks, and possibly months, for the return of normal conditions.

Housewives can aid in conserving the sugar supply by buying these package sugars.

A Cotton Mill Man Declares He Found Indigestion Cure

Suffered Seven Years, Gave Up Doctors, Took To Taking Acid Iron Mineral and Says He Was Able To Work Again

SUFFERED AGONY UNTIL HE BEGAN TAKING THIS MEDICINE

"I suffered from indigestion and with my stomach so bad I could not go to work half the time. I had suffered seven years and tried several doctors but they only gave me temporary relief," declared a Greenville, S. C. man the other day in telling how he at last got relief.

"Everything I ate would disagree with that poor stomach of mine and I was not only sick but worried. Seven years is a long time to suffer and I want to recommend a simple treatment to people suffering like I did. It doesn't cost but a dollar or so and it is just the thing. Get a bottle of Acid Iron Mineral at the drug store. I did, and after I had finished the second large bottle I felt fine. I went back to work and nowadays I can eat and digest anything you put before me. That's good to eat. It has cured me and I consider it the kind of medicine people should recommend. I'll never forget it or be without it. I gladly recommend it to anyone troubled with their stomach or indigestion," enthusiastically declared W. T. Hambrey, 50 Duke St., Greenville, S. C.

The Acid Iron Mineral referred to is the product of a natural medicinal iron deposit, highly concentrated without the addition of a drop of alcohol or narcotic. It contains nothing to disturb the bowels or liver, and a few drops to a teaspoonful in a glass of water is all anyone needs to correct the system and tone the blood, kidneys, appetite, and digestion back to normal, according to the testimony of thousands.

It is the cheapest, strongest, best medicine on the market. Get a bottle today. People all over the state recommend it.

I am keeping house since last April and doing all my housework, where before I was unable to do any work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is certainly the best medicine a woman can take when in this condition. I give you permission to publish this letter."—Mrs. L. R. CRUMMING, R. No. 1, Hellam, Pa.

WHERE PATERNALISM PINCHES
A New York newspaper, one of the kind that worships Thines as They Are and abhors Change, declares in a recent issue that it is altogether unnecessary and might be positively harmful for the municipality to sell milk and coal to the poor at prices reduced from what the dealers are receiving.
That is a characteristic utterance of papers of that class. Anything that smacks of paternalism for the poor is radically wrong. It would weaken their will power, it would reduce them to the position of beggars, it would be a blow to their pride and humiliate them in the eyes of all true Americans.
But the voices of the reactionary press and of reactionary statesmen are only raised against paternalism when the poor are involved. But the same paper rejoices in glaring headlines that the government is to guarantee the investments of the railway bondholders and that it proposes to control the manufacture of news print and thus enable the publishers of the country to buy white paper without being gouged by the paper mills.
It is all right to protect the bondholders and newspapers, but all wrong to protect poor men in the purchase of milk to keep their babies from starving and coal to keep their families from freezing. It is all right to compel millions of consumers to buy the products of the tariff-protected trusts, but all wrong to protect the laborer in securing even the approximate value of his toil.
For forty years powerful interests in this country have manipulated state and federal governments to their own uses. Fabulous fortunes have been created solely thru government-granted privilege. Power, firmly lodged in the hands of the few has been consistently used to make the prosperous more prosperous, but always warning us against the pernicious practice of "governmental paternalism!"
We hope this war to make the world safe for democracy will accomplish its avowed purpose. We have a democratic president in the best sense of the word. He has many advisers equally democratic to aid him. But in his own party and in the Republican party are powerful men, the representatives of powerful interests who do not want the world made TOO safe for democracy.
These interests have a holy horror of "paternalism" and "socialism" in governmental affairs. Yet they themselves are what they are solely thru the grossest forms of state socialism and paternalism. They have been "daddied" by the government from start to finish. They have gone to their state capitols or to Washington at every whim to get more, always more, favors and privileges thru the law making department.
But they so love the poor that their voices are always raised first to save them from the humiliation and degradation which is sure to come if the government aspires to do anything for THEM. Save the bondholder's investment, but do not disgrace the poor by protecting them from the milk and coal profiteers.
Add on to tariff restrictions by which the rich are made richer and millions of people are barred from buying and trading where they will, but do not interfere with their god-given right to import cheap labor to keep wages as near the starvation point as is possible without open revolt. By so doing will Vested Rights be safeguarded and the "under classes" be kept in their proper place!

THAT JAP NAVAL STATION
Newspaper readers with long memories may recall a certain disquieting rumor that kept floating around two or three years ago, to the effect that the Japanese had established a naval base in Southern California, and were preparing to land an expedition in Mexico to help the Mexicans fight the United States. The government investigated, and reported that there was no ground whatever for the rumor, but it persisted for a long time. There may be thousands of Americans who still believe it.
Well, the source of that particular lie has just been revealed. It turns out to have been just another little gracious act of gratitude shown as by German guests. The German gunboat Geier, in November, 1914, took refuge under the American flag in Honolulu, fleeing from a Japanese cruiser. The Geier was interned in due form. The officers were trusted as gentlemen. And this is what they did—
They rigged up a powerful wireless outfit on their ship and used

"Military Training" : : BY WALT MASON
Bill Jonah Tinkle worked for me, before the army got him, and such a slouchy youth was he. I often yearned to swap him. He walked with an ungainly stoop, he shambled and he shuffled, and didn't seem to care, as though whose minds were sorely ruffled. When in response he seemed to slump, as the his joints were failing me; he had to lean against a post, a building or a railing. And when he went away to drill, I said, "Twill be a pity, if they have many men like Bill down there near Junction City. An army made of gangling goats, soaybacked and double-jointed, will look in France, hire twenty cents—This will be disappointing." I saw this lad the other day, and he was sleek and sassy; I hardly knew the blooming jay, he was so clean and classy. Erect, alert, well-groomed and slim, he walked with spring and vigor, as tho his legs belonged to him, and not to some lay figure. The army took this reuben green, and made him an Apollo; oh, wondrous transformation scene—it beats the band all hollow! The army has magicians beat; it takes the knock-kneed sinner, the man who is all neck and feet, and makes of him a winner.

PEOPLE'S FORUM
QUESTION MARKS
Editor The Tribune and Times-Age:
Should the people expect a councilman to vote on the appropriation ordinance appropriating more than fifty thousand dollars when he is given no time whatever to look into the matter? However, this is the usual way of doing it and it was done this way at the latest council meeting.
$50,000.00 is a large sum, larger perhaps than a very good councilman (Continued on Page Seven)
it to make trouble for the United States. To camouflage their operations they always gave hand concerts to drown the crackle while they were using it. They relayed messages for Ambassador Bernstorff, Von Papen and Boy-Ed from Washington to German agents at Manila, Hongkong, Shanghai, etc. Thus they operated as a branch of the great German system of intrigue and propaganda. And while they were not working on anything else, they amused themselves by sending out ingenious lies of their own, to bedevil the United States and Canada. The Japanese-naval-base yarn was one of their pleasant fancies. Another was the story that Germans in this country were organizing a military expedition to attack Canada.
Just another little detail in the general scheme of Prussian treachery. If we'd only known as much two or three years ago as we know now!

NEW YORK, JAN. 16.—It is a long, long time since I've been back home. But I get the weekly paper. Telling me all about. Doe Johnson's fresh painted barn. And the new house in Maple Shade. And all the rest. Of the small town gossip. And today at breakfast. I tore off the wrapper. And on the first page. Was a picture of a boyhood friend. And under it his obituary. It seems just a few weeks. Since he used to whistle. Outside our house. And I would go out. And we would start over. To the public square. To hear the band concert. Hooking some fruit from in front. Of Tanner's grocery on the way. And once we were arrested. For going in swimming. In the old swimming hole. A la September Morn. And Chief of Police Martin. Led us up the Main street. And clerks in all the stores. Came to the doors to laugh. And Mayor Mat Merriman. Looked very stern. And we both sobbed. And begged him. Not to send us. To the penitentiary.

NINNICH DEFEATS CHAMP W. BARRETT OF MICHIGAN IN TWO STRAIGHT FALLS
William Ninnich, local middleweight wrestler, again demonstrated his ability at the Sixth Street theatre, Tuesday evening, when he threw Wilford Barrett, champion middleweight wrestler, of Michigan twice in 38 minutes.
The program of sport presented at the Sixth Street theatre, Tuesday night, under the auspices of the Coshocton Athletic club, was the best ever presented in this city. From the start of the first preliminary to the end of the match the crowd was kept on their toes not knowing what to expect next.
Two boxing preliminaries delighted the fans; the first one of the evening being between Edwin Suthelmer and Robert Daugherty, two local boys who were trained under William Ninnich at the Athletic club. The two boys boxed three rounds, the smaller boy showing superior training and winning the match. John Norman (colored) and Joe Cox (colored) boxed four rounds under Queensbury rules. The match was declared a draw by Referee A. V. Leak, of Newark, after the two boys had fought each other all over the mat, drawing alternate shrieks of approval and laughter from the audience.
The main match of the evening was called at 9 o'clock and after introducing the two wrestlers, Referee Leak called time and the match was on. From the minute time was called till the end of the match not a second dragged. Ninnich started for Barrett from the first minute and altho the Michigan champion was several pounds heavier Ninnich kept him on the defensive nearly the whole period of the match. The local boy showed himself much the cleverer wrestler of the two and kept Barrett working hard to prevent a fall the entire time. Every hold known to the game was used. Three times Ninnich had the cradle hold and held Barrett's shoulders within two inches of the mat, but was unable to force them down due to the Michigan man's weight. After 51 minutes of wrestling he secured a double toe hold, and after a few minutes of working with Barrett on his back the Michigan man was forced to give up and Referee Leak awarded a fall to Ninnich. After a ten minute rest the two men came back strong and for five minutes threw each other around the mat. Ninnich secured a crotch hold and half-Nelson lifting the Michigan champion and placing him squarely on his back where it was impossible for him to get away. Ninnich was declared winner.
Referee Leak announced three challenges for the winner of the bout. Paul Bowser, middleweight champion of the world, of Newark, appearing and personally challenges Ninnich for Ed Conley. Thor Olson, one time champion of Athens, challenged the winner to a bout in the near future. Al Haft (Young Gotch), of Columbus, also challenged the winner. Cody Fleming, of Detroit, challenged Ninnich to another bout, but his challenge will be ignored. All the other challenges were accepted by Wrestler Ninnich, and he also stated to the crowd at the Sixth Street theatre that he is willing to wrestle Bowser some time in the near future. Arrangements will be made to get Conley here on January 25th. Announcement will be made later as to the exact date and the preliminaries.
TOLFO—Mrs. Emma Eerdan, widow of the millionaire wholesale grocer, has filed suit to break Eerdan's will. She was said to have been offered $135,000 in a private settlement.

TELEGRAMS, WHICH LED TO CAILLAUX ARREST GIVEN OUT WEDNESDAY

WASHINGTON, JAN. 16—Two telegrams dealing directly with Former Premier Caillaux and sent to Former German Ambassador Count Von Bernstorff to the German government, were made public by the state department today. It was as a result of these telegrams, copies of which were furnished to the French government by Secretary of State Lansing that the arrest of the former French premier took place a day or so ago.

The two telegrams were sent by Bernstorff to the German foreign office on Feb. 4, 1915. Their tone indicates that Caillaux was bitterly opposed to the French government and in the first of them Bernstorff declared that he (Caillaux) "speaks contemptuously of the French government."

Bernstorff also assures the German government in this telegram that Caillaux "sees thru the policy of England perfectly," and also that he sees in the war now the struggle of England for existence.

The department, in addition to the telegrams, also made public a statement by the German foreign office on June 6, 1916. This latter statement is most significant inasmuch as it apparently was designed for the protection of Caillaux from German newspaper criticism. It says:

"For political reasons it is urgently requested that no thing be written about the French former prime minister, Caillaux, and that his name be not mentioned under any circumstances."

The statement as made public by the State Department today, follows:

"The department of State announces the following cablegram sent by Count Bernstorff to his government on Feb. 16, 1915:

The following No. 21—Caillaux has left Buenos Aires after a short stay and is going direct to France evidently on account of the (group undecipherable) scandal, which he regards as a personal attack upon himself. He speaks contemptuously of the president and of the French government with the exception of Briand. He sees in the policy of England perfectly. He does not anticipate the complete overthrow of France. He sees in the war now a struggle for existence on part of England. Altho he spoke much of the "indiscretions and clumsy policy" of the Wilhelmstrasse and professed to believe in German atrocities, he has in essentials hardly changed his political orientation. Caillaux welcomed indirect courtesies from me, but emphasized the extreme caution which he is obliged to show as the French government, he said, had him watched even here. He warns us against excessive praise bestowed upon him. He pressed and desired on the other hand that Mediterranean and Morocco agreements should be adversely criticized. Our praise injures his position in France. Caillaux reception here was nothing new. On his return from France he will begin to work with those who reside in his constituency. He fears Paris and the fate of Juarez. (Signed) "BERNSTORFF" resolution to make all young men who have attained the age of 21, since June 5th eligible to the draft and the bill authorizing the change of the draft basis. Under the former measure, the nation's fighting strength can be increased by 500,000. Under the latter, much of the dissatisfaction over unequal quotas apportioned to the various states would be eliminated.

The committee still has several phases of army affairs to investigate, but it is decided to make use of information obtained up to the present as an argument of legislation most needed. It is expected many of the measures will be laid before the senate with a recommendation for early passage within the next few days.

Meanwhile the senate commerce committee, profiting by the investigation it obtained in its shipping investigation prepared three important measures to strengthen the shipbuilding administration. One of the measures would empower the shipping board to take over transportation necessary to carry workmen to shipbuilding centers. Another provides fifty million to meet expenses of the requisition houses to shelter workmen. The third authorizes the president to declare military zones about shipyards to prevent interference with the carrying out of the shipping program. The administration prepared to throw its whole-hearted support to the Pomereh-Lever bill, prepared by the food administration, to carry compulsory food conservation into every home. Stubborn fighting, rivaling that over the first food control bill passed last summer, was promised over the measure because of its ultra revolutionary character. The bill, however, is receiving strong backing from the element in congress believing that half way measures will no longer suffice to guarantee American an adequate food supply.

The period of control of the railroad neared an end today and investigations and indications are today that drafting to carry out the ideas of the committee will begin at an early date.

An appropriate name is wanted for the knitting class recently organized by Mrs. Hester Spangler for girls under 17 years of age who wish to knit socks for soldiers. Although many of the older women in the community are busy knitting socks for the men in the army and navy, few of the younger knitters have advanced past the sweater and helmet stage of the art. The first few lessons will be for the purpose of familiarizing the girls with the use of four needles, necessary for the knitting of socks.

The class will meet every Saturday at the home of the instructor and organizer, Mrs. Spangler, at Fourth and Chestnut streets. It is open to all girls under 17 years of age. As the

Resolve: To Do Away With Wash-Day Drudgery

Perhaps you think, Madame, that you are saving money by doing the washing yourself. But you're not, and you're going to live to regret it, if you continue. Your health won't stand it—a woman's constitution was never meant to endure the backaches and the drudgery of washing and ironing at home. And if you keep it up, you are going to get a way some day and the health that you've lost, plus the doctor bills that you are going to pay in trying to recover, will show you too late that you shouldn't have subjected those delicate organisms of your to such a strain.

With our modern machinery we are able to do this work cheaply and just as well and sanitariously as you would yourself.

Make up your mind to be relieved of wash-day drudgery, during the coming year, by sending your laundry to us.

WOULD CARRY FOOD PROGRAM INTO HOMES

WASHINGTON, JAN. 15.—The food administration's new sweeping measures to carry compulsory conservation into every kitchen in the country was introduced in both houses this afternoon. Senator Pomerene, of Ohio, introduced it in the senate and Rep. Lever, of South Carolina in the house.

The Pomerene-Lever bill gives authority to the president to be exercised through the food administration to impose any restrictions necessary to conserve foods upon any group of persons or individuals. His powers in this respect would be practically unlimited, and the most drastic penalties are provided to carry them into effect.

SALVATION ARMY TO RAISE A HUGE SUM FOR SOLDIERS

Magnitude of the work of the Salvation Army in war relief in American camps and at the front, is emphasized by a statement by Former Governor Judson Harmon, executive chairman of the Ohio War Work Council of the Salvation Army, appointed by Gov. Cox.

In his announcement, in connection with the campaign to raise $140,000 in this state, part of the $1,000,000 to be raised in the United States, and which campaign will start Feb. 1 and end Feb. 9, Mr. Harmon points out that the Salvation Army has erected 153 recreation houses, 77 hotels and military homes, 33 ambulances have carried 50,000 wounded to hospitals, 11,000 packages of food and clothing have been sent to war prisoners, and 500,000 soldiers are being ministered to every week. More than 500 Salvation Army officers and men are co-operating with military officials in this work, which is being carried on at the front and at home in co-operation with the Y. M. C. A., the Red Cross and other bodies.

"Because its methods are not spectacular, the Salvation Army's noble efforts are not well known. Now that they are being told of, we already realize there will be big response from the people during the coming campaign," says Mr. Harmon. "Every bit of the money will go direct to our boys, and used in most practical way for their benefit."

QUICK HELP FOR A GROUPY CHILD SIMPLE-HARMLESS

When your child is croupy, cross, feverish, full of cold, restless and irritable, try this.

Get a 25c tube of NOSTRIOLA Balm of your druggist, apply to nostrils and on chest and throat also under armpits and on soles of feet. NOSTRIOLA is absolutely harmless (formula on every package) and is endorsed by leading physicians. This simple common-sense treatment will clear the head, instantly stop that terrible choke, croupy cough and quickly change a half-sick, fretful child into a happy, playful one.

The nostrils and air passages are the breeding places for disease germs. "NOSTRIOLA," either Balm or the Vapor-Spray, is intended to prevent infection and the special Nostriola "Former Outfit" belongs in every home, especially where there are children.

The old method of dosing the stomach for colds and croup is wrong and harmful. Get a small tube of Nostriola or an Atomizer at any druggist today and you'll wish you had tried this simple treatment sooner.

YOUR SICK CHILD IS CONSTIPATED! LOOK AT TONGUE

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thoro laxative should always be the first treatment given.

If your little one is out-of-orts, half-sick, isn't resting, eating and acting naturally—look, Mother! see if tongue is coated. This is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and bowels are clogged with waste. When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or has vomitachae, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, give a tea-spoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the constipated poison, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again.

Mothers can rest easy after giving this harmless "fruit laxative," because it never fails to cleanse the little one's liver and bowels, and sweeten the stomach and they dearly love its pleasant taste. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs"; then see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company."

THEATRES

"THE PRINCESS PAT"
"The Princess Pat," the Cort Theatre, New York, production of the Henry Blossom-Victor Herbert best musical comedy will be presented at the Sixth Street Theatre tonight, Wednesday, Jan. 16th.

Henry Blossom and Victor Herbert have become so well established as collaborators in the composition of light and musical comedy that any joint work of these gifted men attracts far more than ordinary attention. They have to their credit such other pronounced successes as "The Prima Donna," "The Red Mill" that lent greatly to the fame of Montecarlo and Stone and "Mlle. Modiste," another opera that gave us Fritz Scheff at her best while a more recent work was "The Only Girl," which ran for an entire season in New York. These five productions represent all on which Blossom and Herbert have collaborated and every one scored a most emphatic, artistic and financial hit. That "The Princess Pat" has its full share of success is best demonstrated by the fact that it crowded the Cort Theatre, New York, all last season.

The story of the play has to do with the entanglements brought about by the Princess di Montaldo (nee Patricia O'Connor), otherwise Pat. Her husband has latterly shown a lack of affection for her and to point out the error of his way and incidentally cause a revival of his earlier demonstrations of love as well as to save her chum, Grace Holbrook, from a marriage with an elderly man, Pat starts a little affair with the old duffer that serves to accomplish her double purpose, but meanwhile the secret of Herbert is, as usual, a joy to hear. There are twenty numbers and every one of them is of the distinctive brilliancy of the celebrated composer. The presenting cast will include Annette Ford, Stef Anderson, Francis Schofield, Neil Moore, Nelson Riley, Peter MacArthur, Augustus Buell, John Reinhard, Edwin Stanley, Wilbur Cox and an excellent singing chorus.

Annette Ford Sympathizes With The City Bred Girl

Annette Ford, the charming prima donna of "The Princess Pat" company at the Sixth street theatre, is a great lover of nature, and when interviewed Wednesday, talked at length on what girls born and bred in a metropolis are missing.

"These girls are fed on sauce and have none of the pudding of life. You know sauce is not the best thing to live on as a steady diet. It is not the girl's fault, but their loss, I think, when they are connoisseurs of fur, and fashions at the age of 12, but know nothing of where to find the first violet and primrose in spring, or the last red haw tree in the fall. They do not know where the mistletoe grows or how. They have never spent hours alone drinking in the lesson of peace, of utter resignation, it need be, that the hills and forests have to teach. And so they cannot be blamed. If all the pretty things of life are so abnormally big to them. Their standards of comparison is wrong, that's all. But give them a chance with nature and see what happens. I watched the miracle last summer up at Lake Champlain.

"One day, a bunch of pretty girls rushed into the village store. They had arrived at the camp only the night before. They were faultlessly dressed in white duck and flannels, so picturesque for tennis court or shore. Their hair was dressed in the latest fashion set by our most popular dancer. They had evidently not arrived at the age of 15, but their manners were, plainly bored. They plied the country clerk with such questions: 'Dear me, don't you have any dances here? Is there nothing going on in this burg? We are bored to death. Nothing has happened all day.'

"They were afflicted with self-pity. They only knew the pleasures of their city environment. They were blinded by the glamour of their senses and resented what nature was trying to do for them with such lavish color and form and sound. Within two weeks she had converted these sophisticated creatures into happy, joyous children almost unconsciously. One day, one of the girls forgot to curl her hair, the next a ribbon was discarded. The others followed suit and before the end of the week, bloomers had succeeded the spic and span dresses, and the conventional garments and adornments had been relegated to other days. They beheld a new life with saner views, and the days were not long enough for them. I heard no more of the lament: 'What shall we do?' Laughter and song filled the old rock caves and echoed across the waters. The change was marvellous.

USE COCOANUT OIL FOR WASHING HAIR

If you want to keep your hair in good condition, be careful what you wash it with.

Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and is very harmful. Just plain mulsified cocoanut oil (which is pure and entirely greaseless), is much better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use for shampooing, as this can't possibly injure the hair.

Simply moisten your hair with water and rub it in. One or two teaspoonfuls will make an abundance of rich, creamy lather, and cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. The lather rinses out easily, and removes every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves it fine and silky, bright, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified cocoanut oil at most any drug store. It is very cheap, and a few ounces is enough to last everyone in the family for months.

When Nellie's father came in on his horse he got off, picked her up, and put her on the horse's back while he shut the gate. He looked around quickly, expecting to find her badly hurt, but instead she had slipped off and stood placidly smiling. "I fought I preferred to walk," she replied.

EX-SOLDIER OF KAISER'S ARMY HATES WILHELM

BALTIMORE, JAN. 16—Peter Becht, 56 years old and married, is one German who has no love for the Kaiser.

"I served in the German army three years," said Becht today. "I would not kill the Kaiser. I would put him in a cage and starve him to death as he is causing Germany to be starved now."

Becht displayed two broken thumbs as evidence that he has no love for Hohenzollernism. He said the Kaiser struck him with a sword while reviewing German cavalry because he evidently did not like the way he, Becht, held his thumbs on the reins.

Becht told his story at a local registration station when he showed first naturalization papers to clear himself of classification as an alien enemy.

BRITISH LABOR TAKES BIG STEP FORWARD IN DEMOCRACY'S INTEREST

By J. E. NEVINS.
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, JAN. 16.—British labor's renunciation of annexations in Asia Minor, India and Africa, with declarations for vast protectorates, marks Britain's most important step forward in the interest of democracy in the war, officials here declared today. They insisted it would be impossible to over estimate the importance of this announcement made with full sanction of the government. It backs up President Wilson's every appeal to the Russian people and should prove a weapon of assistance in German discord with military control of the Kaiser's empire firmly established. Whether it will hold the Russians against a Berlin-made peace is fully as problematical, however, as is the ultimate effect of President Wilson's message. Bolshevik control is of such a nature that no man can forecast what it will do from moment to moment on any subject. But officials here were very hopeful that the British announcement, which advises the embassy here today shows was sent in full to Petrograd, will have a very beneficial effect there.

Organized labor in the U. S. endorses to a very complete extent the British position. There is complete accord between labor leaders in England and those in this country, according to officials at headquarters of the federation today. Their attention was called to sections of the message of greetings telegraphed by Samuel Gompers to the federation of trades unions. In this cable after declaring that organized labor of the U. S. will never participate in any international conference of labor, it allows representation of labor in Germany.

The people of Germany must establish democracy within their own domain, and make opportunity for international operations that life shall be safe and that all people of the world may live there and work out their own salvation. Unless this has been accomplished by the Germans themselves, the struggle must crush militarism and autocracy, and bring a new freedom to the whole world, the people of Germany included. Until these essentials are accomplished an international labor conference with the representatives of the workers of all countries, Germany included, is prejudicial to a lasting peace.

able sort of man, is said to be strongly American, and has been unpopular with alien enemies here, because he displayed no friendship for the cause of the fatherland. It developed today that the apprehension of Asch follows a voluntary information which he gave to authorities. Frederick H. C. Spoormann, brother of the accused man, was placed in the city jail. While it is not generally believed that he is an accomplice in the case, nevertheless officials have decided to hold him until some definite action has been taken. There is a decided feeling in Baltimore today that if proven guilty Spoormann should pay the supreme penalty. Baltimore has become the home of large numbers of alien enemies, since the war zones were created and numerous alien enemies driven from Washington have taken up abode here.

Baltimoreans are intense in their feeling against these alien enemies who don't obey the law and declare that the death penalty for Spoormann would prove an excellent example and would clear the city of the suspicion which seems to hang over it of being a spy center.

ALL RECORDS FOR SMALL POX CASES IN OHIO BROKEN

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, JAN. 16.—Ohio has broken another record—the small pox record. During December there were 1070 cases of this disease in 69 of the 88 counties. The previous high record was 938 cases in January, 1914. The figures were announced today by the state health department.

December's total brot the number of cases in Ohio for 1917 to 5,142, or 490 more than the previous high year of 1914.

In proportion to population, Shelby county, led with 95 cases. Cuyahoga counties cases increased from 84 in November to 135 in September. Hamilton from 7 to 35, Montgomery from 29 to 22, and Summit from 191 to 114. Among smaller counties heavily infected during December were: Darke, 28; Butler, 28; Stark, 31, and Wayne, 43. Lack of health official physicians mistakes in diagnosing small pox as chicken pox and lack of general vaccination is blamed by A. W. Freeman, commissioner of health for the spread of the disease.

HALF MILLION DOLLAR BLAZE AT MEW YORK

NEW YORK, JAN. 16.—More than half a million dollars damage has been done by a fire which is sweeping the Robinson warehouse at Congress street, Brooklyn. The building was filled with food supplies awaiting shipment to France by the government.

Suspecting that the fire might be of incendiary origin, Fire Marshal Brophy ordered his entire staff to start an investigation immediately.

The blaze started in the employes' washroom on the second floor. Workmen attacked the flame with extinguishers and buckets but before the first fire apparatus arrived the fire had spread over the entire floor and was creeping into the upper stories.

Four alarms were sounded in rapid succession calling the greater part of the Brooklyn fire department to the scene.
